IT'S like a flash flood following a dry spell. All the welfare schemes, disbursements, and salary payment that had been denied to the Puducherry public over the last four years - thanks to row-blocks laid by the Raj Nivas - are being cleared at lightning speed. The new Lt Governor, Tamilisai Soundararaman, according to sources, is providing a "heating touch" to those affected by her predecessor Kiran Bedi's decisions. Analysts see this as a move by BJP to salvage its political losses caused earlier.
